

Western Washington Medical Group (WWMG) is a well-established, provider-owned and -run medical group in Everett, Washington. The Department of Psychology, operating within the larger medical group, has a unique model in which it allows individual providers to work independently with the benefit of administrative support. Providers can also enjoy collaborative relationships with other WWMG interdisciplinary providers.

Providers within our department have diverse interests and practices who serve both pediatric and adult populations. Working within the larger WWMG medical organization offers benefits to individual providers including referrals from other providers within the WWMG system, marketing, billing services, scheduling support, administrative assistance, furnished offices, and a fun, cohesive team of supportive, easy-going, and talented providers.

Part- and full-time positions are available for experienced mental health providers practicing therapy with children and adolescents. Typical presenting concerns include emotional and behavioral regulation difficulties, learning disorders, social difficulties, and familial discord.

Available positions are ideal for skilled therapists seeking to work within a thriving medical organization with benefits that include work independence; competitive pay on a production-based compensation model; available medical, dental, and vision benefits; and retirement contributions – without the work, headaches, financial investment, or risk associated with running a private business.

PROVIDER BENEFITS:

- Available medical, dental, and vision benefits for full-time providers
- Matching funds contributed to a retirement savings plan
- Paid Professional Liability Insurance coverage
- Insurance credentialing
- Full-service insurance billing department
- Dedicated clinical support and group consultation
- Provider appointments as Washington State University (WSU) medical school adjunct professors with access to a peer-reviewed journal library
- Thriving and connected professional team

Applicants must be licensed or license-eligible in Washington State (EPPP should already be completed and passed) and have a minimum of one year working with children. For more information, please visit our website: www.wwmedgroup.com
