I. USES AND DISCLOSURES OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

A. Permissible Uses and Disclosures without Your Written Authorization

We may use and disclose PHI without your written authorization for certain purposes as described below. The examples provided in each category are not meant to be exhaustive, but instead are meant to describe the types of uses and disclosures that are permissible under federal and state law.

1. Treatment: We may use and disclose PHI in order to provide treatment to you. For example, we may use PHI including your medication history to diagnose, treat, and provide medical services to you. In addition, we may disclose PHI to other health care providers involved in your treatment.

2. Payment: We may use or disclose PHI for the purposes of determining coverage, billing, claims management, and reimbursement. For example, a bill sent to your health insurer may include information about a surgery you received so that the insurer will pay us for the surgery. We may also inform your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive in order to determine whether the plan will cover the treatment.

3. Health Care Operations: We may use and disclose PHI in connection with our health care operations, including quality improvement activities, training programs, accreditation, certification, licensing or credentialing activities. For example, we may use PHI to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff. We may also disclose PHI to our health care professionals for review and learning purposes.

Western Washington Medical Group is part of a HIPAA organized health care arrangement ("OHCA") with participating providers of the Physician Care Alliance. As participants in the OHCA, Western Washington Medical Group and the other OHCA participants engage in quality assessment and improvement activities through which treatment provided by each organization is assessed by the other participants. As permitted by HIPAA, Western Washington Medical Group may share the health information of its patients with the OHCA participants when necessary for health care operations purposes of the OHCA.

4. Required or Permitted by Law: We may use or disclose PHI when we are required or permitted to do so by law. For example, we may disclose PHI to appropriate authorities if we reasonably believe that you are a possible victim of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence or the possible victim of other crimes. In addition we may disclose PHI to the extent necessary to avert a serious threat to your health or safety or the health or safety of others. Other disclosures permitted or required by law include the following: disclosures for public health activities; health oversight activities including disclosures to state or federal agencies authorized to access PHI; disclosures to judicial and law enforcement officials in response to a court order or other lawful process; disclosures for research when approved by an institutional review board; disclosures for workers' compensation claims; and disclosures to military or national security agencies, coroners, medical examiners, and correctional institutions as otherwise as authorized by law.

5. Fundraising. We may contact you for the purpose of raising funds for our own benefit. We may also disclose PHI to a foundation that is related to us so that the foundation may contact you in an effort to raise funds for our benefit. Any fundraising communications with you will include a description of how you may opt out of receiving any further fundraising communications.

If you are present, then prior to use or disclosure of your health information, we will provide you with an opportunity to object to such uses or disclosures. In the event of your incapacity or emergency circumstances, we will disclose health information based on a determination using our professional judgment disclosing only health information that is directly relevant to the person's involvement in your healthcare. We will also use our professional judgment and our experience with common practice to make reasonable inferences of your best interest in allowing a person to pick up filled prescriptions, medical supplies, x-rays, or other similar forms of PHI.
